The Hongkong Telegraph

HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 1882.

It must be allowed that a Crown Colony, possessing a large surplus has its advantages as well as disadvantages, and we question under the peculiarities of Colonial administration whether the latter do not generally outweigh the former. If Hongkong is taken as an example it can scarcely be denied that its civil officers are as well paid as any under the Crown, but if we except the Bench, there is hardly an official position in the Colony who does not fill two and in some cases three and four separate appointments, carrying with them additional emolument as a rule. In fact, unless a regular incumbent has some additional appointment tacked on to his office, it has become to be considered a grievance. Probably Governor HENNESSY's unpopularity in the civil service is due in a great measure to the fact that he discouraged such an anomaly. A surplus is apparently looked upon by the Colonial officers as caused by their diligence and formed for their special benefit. This fallacy is not however confined to the local officials; but the Secretary of State and Crown Agents are all apparently interested in the reduction of the fund in a manner which we doubt would be impossible under other circumstances, at least we maintain that we are entitled to draw this conclusion from the actions of the Government. A Colony without a surplus certainly compels a stricter surveillance over expenditure, and a more careful consideration of the necessity of things before they are sanctioned. We do not grudge our officials their furlough, but we question whether the fact of the surplus does not account for the liberality displayed as regards leave and allowances, and the number of acting appointments; and we certainly failed to recognize, in the case of Mr. MARSH, who has spent by far the greater part of his time out of the Colony, the equity of this Colony contributing a large portion of his salary while Cyprus has been enjoying his labours. Moreover, a surplus tends to encourage all kinds of extravagant projects not absolutely necessary for the welfare of the Colony, and it is only too clear that economy is frequently lost sight of by the originators of such schemes. We have not far to look to verify the accuracy of this statement, and we shall be able to give some striking evidence in support of this in considering some of the public works now in course of construction in the Colony.

The Haiphong correspondent of our morning contemporary is evidently an original character. His warlike description of the "Capture of the Citadel at Hanoi" is a masterpiece of "penny-a-lining." He states that:—"The bombardment commenced at 8.15 and lasted until 10.45 a.m., when the French troops, six hundred strong, advanced to the assault, and by eleven o'clock the Citadel was in their possession. The Annamites made, for them, a brave and stubborn resistance. They returned the French fire with little intermission, sending red hot balls into the town and against the Concession; several portions of the suburbs were soon in flames. The city proper and the French Concession have not suffered from the bombardment. The loss on the part of the French, I am glad to say, is very small, only three being wounded and none killed, but the Annamites lost heavily. I hear that they had 300 men killed, how many wounded I can't say as yet, besides the natives and Chinese that must have been killed in the suburbs by the bombs fired from the Citadel. It is much to be regretted that so much blood should have been shed through the obstinacy of the mandarins."

It is really amusing to be told with an air of military authority that the Annamites made "a brave and stubborn resistance," returning the French fire with little intermission, and sending red hot balls into the town and against the Concession. The Citadel, according to the Daily Press correspondent contained 7,000 Annamite and Chinese troops, armed with rifles, and mitrailleuses, and we must not forget that they were behind the walls of the fort, which were defended by heavy guns. The French attacking party numbered six hundred men. And we are asked to believe that seven thousand Annamite and Chinese, protected by a fort which they deemed impregnable, fired for two hours and a half into the advancing French, without killing anybody, and only wounding three men. The Hongkong public are doubtless credulous to a degree; but this is rather too large a pill to swallow. It would be much better to tell the truth frankly and openly, as it must be evident to every person of ordinary intelligence that the French could have met no resistance whatsoever, that, in fact, after firing for two hours at a defenceless crowd of terror-stricken wretches, who never contemplated resistance, killing 300 according to their own account, they entered the citadel unopposed, and commenced the work of plundering, which will degrade France in the eyes of the civilised world. The French bombs, we are told, played fearful havoc amongst the Annamites in the citadel. No doubt they did. It must have been splendid practice for the French gunners to try the effect of their new armament on a crowd of ignorant and defenceless barbarians, who were incapable of offering the slightest show of resistance.

Before commenting further on what cannot but be regarded as a gross violation of treaty rights, and international laws, we await the receipt of fuller, and more reliable particulars from the scene of action. How the arbitrary measures of the French authorities will be defended, it is at present impossible to say; but so far as can be seen they have not the slightest excuse for this high handed, and heartless treatment of a friendly and inoffensive people. At the termination of the Franco-Prussian war, when what was once the first military power in Europe lay helpless at the feet of the German conqueror, the French people expressed great surprise at the small amount of sympathy they received in their great tribulation from other nations. There was however really no cause for surprise. French barbarities when dealing with weaker nations have long been notorious, and have effectually alienated from France the affections and good wishes of her neighbours. History repeats itself. It has done so in this latest French atrocity in Hanoi.

An Emergency Meeting of United Royal Arch Chapter, No. 1341, will be held in Freemason's Hall, on Saturday next, the 6th inst., at 8 p.m., precisely.

Louis Lawson, of Norway, an unemployed seaman, was charged this morning before Mr. Wodehouse with creating a disturbance at Smith's Boarding House, and assaulting the manager with a knife yesterday. The defendant, it appears, complained of the food served, said he would leave, and demanded his two weeks' board advance money, shaking his hand in the manager's face, who gave him a push, and told him to go away. Looking behind him presently, upon his attention being called by another man, the manager saw the defendant with a sheath knife in his hand, with which he threatened him, saying "I will fix you." The manager ran away, the defendant after him, and got into a corner in a Chinese shop, when defendant approached and made three thrusts at him with the knife, cutting his waistcoat in one place, but not inflicting any wound. He struck hard, but was too far off to do much harm. The case was remanded till Friday to obtain the services of an interpreter in Norwegian, the defendant representing that he did not understand English sufficiently.

The performance of Donizetti's famous opera "Polito" announced for Saturday evening, has been postponed until Monday, the 8th inst.

Upon arrival at Yokohama, the British steamer Arcturion was transferred to the Japanese flag, having been purchased by the Honai Sen Kwaisha. She is a fine little vessel, in every respect suitable for coasting purposes, and a great acquisition to the native coasting trade. The Captain and officers have been retained by agreement.—Rising Sun.

SIGNORA SILINI will sing the celebrated cavatina from Meyerbeer's "Roberto il Diavolo," and Signor Lubici the grand aria from "Aida," at Signor Corti's benefit to-morrow. "Crispino e la Comare" should be eminently suited to the company's capabilities, so that a capital evening's entertainment has been provided for the benefit of the veteran basso. We hope to see a large attendance.

According to the Nagasaki Express, the United States Consul for this port, in his despatch to the Department of State on the Fisheries of Nagasaki, says:—"Dr. Dale, U.S.N., attached to the U.S.S. Pikes, an able ichthyologist, whilst at Nagasaki, was employed in making a collection of fish for the Smithsonian Institute. He informed me that in his opinion there is no fish market in the world superior to that of Nagasaki, either in regard to the number of species or in the quality of the edible kinds. During his stay here he secured specimens of some 200 different species, comprising those of almost every known family,—and this, too, at the poorest season of the year. The crustacea, Dr. Dale thinks, are but little less numerous and valuable than the fish themselves."

TSANG SAM, a stone-cutter, was up at the Police Court this morning on a summons taken out by Brother Peter, Assistant Director of the West Point Reformatory, for unlawful and negligently blasting stones there to the danger of people. The complainant said that last Friday the defendant, who is a building contractor engaged in some works near the Reformatory, caused a rock to be blasted so near the Reformatory that some of the alibris fell on to and broke the roof. He had complained of it before, but as the contractor persisted in the dangerous pastime, he summoned him. Inspector Thomson said he had seen the place where the blasting operations were carried on, immediately at the back of the Reformatory. The blasting was dangerous unless proper precautions were taken. If heavy pieces of wood and plank were placed upon the stone to be blasted, as he had previously told the blasters to do, there would be no danger or inconvenience to the inhabitants. Defendant, who admitted the charge, was fined five dollars.

OUR Zoological Special had the pleasure of interviewing the advance cargo of Chiari's Royal Bengal tigers at East Point this morning, consisting of one full-grown male and three cubs. The former, two-and-a-half years old, is a magnificent specimen, measuring fully twelve feet from the nose to the tip of the tail. Our Special, with his usual thirst for knowledge and desire of accuracy, suggested to the keeper to oblige him by entering the tiger's domicile and applying a measuring tape to the animal's snout, carrying it on in as direct a line as possible to the tip of the tail, but, to his great disappointment, the keeper cried "dead off," and as he did not wish to be intrusive or interfere in other people's business, he thought it best not to offer to effect the desired measurement himself, and so was contented with obtaining as precise an idea of the tiger's entire length as could be gained by a very fair pair of oculars applied with critical discernment. Our Special being anxious to have a glance at the interior of the animal's mouth, the keeper gently twitted the tiger with a long pole, when the fierce creature jumped promptly from his recumbent posture on to its legs, and emitted a growl, not loud, but so deep that it seemed to proceed from the very lowest down recesses of the animal's interior, causing our Special, though he has been the hero of many "moving accidents by blood and field," to involuntarily sheer off several paces from the iron cage. In giving expression to this awe-inspiring growl, the tiger very conveniently exposed the whole of his magnificent dental system, and what a sight! Four molars of prodigious crunching powers presented themselves, making our Special feel ineffably happy that they were not being tried on his tender carcass, which they would have speedily reduced to a very fragmentary mass indeed. Iron bars have been bitten through by them. A very ancient author has propounded the interrogatory, "Can the tiger change his skin?" in reply to which we would ask, "Would he, if he could?" At all events, we know that were we possessed of a magnificently striped hide like that of the Royal Bengal now at East Point, we would not change it—not for dollars. His tigership, we learn from the keeper, has a very fair appetite, being able to put away 25 lbs. of raw meat at a meal, but as he is only fed once a day, it is not much after all for an animal of his calibre. The remainder of the menagerie are expected down by the Diamond, and comprise three performing Royal tigers, two black tigers, one black bear, one zebra, fifteen performing monkeys, 45 trained horses and twelve trained ponies. We hear that Chiari's agent has been unable to obtain the use of either the Cricket or Parade Ground for the Circus, and that it is likely it will not come on here in consequence. This, we think, would be a great pity, as it would not only deprive the general community of a rich treat, but would also prevent our local "jocks" from acquiring some valuable "tips" in the noble art of equitation from the performing monkeys, who, we hear, handle their steeds in a style not to be surpassed. Alongside the tigers there is a cage of chattering monkeys, amongst which are probably the simian rivals of our local horsemen, but in the presence of the noble—we mean in proportions, not disposition—animal he has feebly attempted to describe, our Special had no thought to bestow upon our ancient and ridiculous looking progenitors.

The German steamer Carls was docked at Kowloon last night.

Mr. J. A. Corte Real, the Colonial Secretary, will act as Administrator during the absence of Governor Graça.

We learn that His Excellency the Administrator paid a visit to the Governor of Macao at the Hongkong Hotel yesterday morning.

REUTER wires that 43 Egyptian officers have been exiled, being suspected of a conspiracy to assassinate Arabi Bey at the instigation of Ismail.

For snatching yesterday a parcel containing $4.40 in silver from the hand of Hayno Sze, a lamp-timmer in the employment of the Mitsui Bishi Company, Ng Akwai, a farmer, was sent this morning to six months' hard labour by Mr. Wodehouse.

A TELEGRAM received from Shanghai this morning, states that it is raining heavily. After the result of the Shanghai Stakes, in which the great gun Prejudice went down before both Wild Dash and Tajmahal, the Champions now seems a certainty for Wild Dash. Mr. Kerfoot's powerful pony being a capital good in mud.

As Mr. Marsh has shown the courage of his opinions by acting in direct opposition to the policy of Governor HENNESSY in several instances, we might suggest one improvement His Excellency might effect which would meet with the approval of the entire community. The bar at the City Hall on entertainment nights was abolished by Sir John Pope Hennessy, on what we have always considered insufficient grounds. Legally, perhaps, the Governor was right; on common sense grounds his action in closing the bar to the great inconvenience of the public, was unjustifiable and altogether unnecessary. The present Administrator has, no doubt deservedly, the reputation of being a gentleman of independent character and enlightened views. We assure him that the ban placed by Governor HENNESSY on the sale of refreshments at the City Hall is a serious inconvenience to the community, and that its removal would be generally appreciated. We take the liberty of asking His Excellency, in the public interests, to remove an interdict which is really a grievance.

MR. A. S. MARTIN, Usher, &c. at the Police Court, stated this morning in a case in which Chan Atai, master of a carpenter's shop in Queen's Road East, was summoned for obstructing the footway by leaving a number of chairs and beds thereupon, that on going to the house No. 107 yesterday he saw a Chinawoman whom he asked where Chan Atai was. She said he was not there. He then gave her a copy of the summons and told her to give it to him when he returned. He left the shop, when the woman called him back, and asked him to take the summons away. He refused, and she then said that Chan Atai was under doctor's treatment, and it was impossible for him to attend. He told her if he could not attend to tell him to send a partner or some one, or write a letter explaining his absence. She said it was no business of hers, and at any rate Chan Atai could not show up. He again essayed to leave the shop, but was called back by the woman, who said Chan Atai wanted to see him. He went upstairs to the first floor and called out for Chun Atai, when some one said "Come in." He went in, and found Mr. Thomas Ide Bowler in bed, and people applying medicine to his oculars. Mr. Bowler asked him what he wanted. He answered "Chun Atai." Mr. Bowler then said, "I am Chun Atai,—what business have you got here?" He showed him the copy of the summons. Mr. Bowler said, "Are you the person who gave this to the old woman?" He answered "Yes." Mr. Bowler rejoined, "Do you think I did not hear the old woman telling you that Chun Atai could not attend Court as his eyes were paining him? I shall report this matter to-morrow to His Lordship the Chief Justice or to the Governor for intruding upon my house, on a sick person who is under doctor's treatment, and who has strict orders not to see any one." He told him he had not intruded, the woman having said that he was called by Chan Atai. Mr. B. said he didn't care whether the woman told him or who told him; that he was intruding in his house, and said "Go away, will you?" He told Mr. B. there must be some mistake about Chan Atai, and that he (Mr. B.) was not the person intended, so asked back the summons and he would find out who was the proper person. Mr. B. refused to give it back, and said he would report him, and that if he didn't go out of the place he would call a Policeman to send him away. Mr. B. then called the woman downstairs to call a Policeman, but she did not hear. He then told his servant girl to call one but he (Mr. Martin) went away after that, leaving the copy of the summons with Mr. B. Chan Atai had not appeared to the summons when the case came on for hearing. The Magistrate ordered notice of hearing to be served on Chan Atai, and remanded the case till Saturday.

"LA FAVORITA" AT THE CITY HALL.

The Italian Opera Company repeated Donizetti's ever popular and attractive "La Favorita" last night, for the benefit of Signora Silini, the prima contralto of the Company. During the present season, Signora Silini has become very popular with Hongkong audiences for her deservedly commendable acting in all the characters she has attempted, and also for her capital vocalization, which far surpasses that of any contralto who has previously performed in the City Hall. As the opera chosen for her benefit was one in which the Signora had made a great hit, it was confidently expected that the house would be a "bumper" one, and we are glad to say that the most sanguine anticipations in this respect were fully realized, the largest audience of the season attending, albeit the weather was anything but favorable. The spaces between the footlights were decorated with choice bouquets at the expense of a Portuguese gentleman of musical proclivities, the flowers, being most charmingly arranged, having a fine effect. During the whole of the performance the audience were most enthusiastic, showers of applause, and bouquets, falling to the lot of the charming contralto, while a tray, which the audience had a slight look at, in the hands of Signor Brunetti, bore the following handsome presents from the admirers (and their name is legion) of the fair cantatrice. One pair brilliant earrings, one set, gold brooch and earrings (set with pearls), one pair gold earrings, one silver couler and locket, one silver couler and earrings, one gold and ivory brooch and earrings, one pair silver bracelets, one silver napkin ring, one silver purse, one ivory card case, and one silver necklace.

Between the 3rd and 4th acts, Signora Silini, assisted by Signori Vanzetti and Ciochi, gave the Grand Terceetto from Verdi's "I Lombardi," and fairly brought down the house by her exquisite acting and singing, having to appear twice before the curtain at the end of the scene, the audience being warmly enthusiastic. Signori Vanzetti and Ciochi added much to the success of the "Terceetto," by judicious acting and artistic singing, and deservedly shared the applause which was so liberally bestowed. We repeat our previous statement that no such three high-class artists as Signora Silini and Signori Vanzetti and Ciochi have ever previously performed together in Hongkong. We criticised the opera "La Favorita" at full length on its first production, so need only now say that, as on the previous occasion, the whole of the artists engaged acquitted themselves with much credit. Signora Silini as Leonora and Signori Vanzetti and Ciochi as Fernando and Alfonso respectively, scoring legitimate triumphs by genuine histrionic ability and cultured vocalization. Signor Corti as Baldassarre, Signor Brunetti as Don Gasparo and Signora Bertolini as Ines, rendered efficient service, whilst Signor Cattaneo conducted with his usual care.

We would draw attention to the performance announced for Thursday night, "Crispino e la Comare" for the benefit of Signor Corti. The painstaking basso has seen better days, and even now, sometimes uses all that is left of his once magnificent voice, which at one time made the name of Corti famous in musical Italy, with good effect. Signor Corti will play the part of the Cobbler, and judging from his performances of Don Gregorio in "Tutti in Maschera," and Illi Dottore Dulcamara in "L'Elisir d'Amore," we should say that the veteran will be well suited with his part. It is to be hoped that a bumper house will be accorded Signor Corti on the occasion of his benefit, as the Hongkong public certainly owe him a good turn. But for Signor Corti we would probably never have had the pleasure of hearing the talented artist whose season is rapidly drawing to a close, the Signor having brought the Opera Company from Italy at great expense, and being compelled, by financial embarrassments, to give up his position as Impressario and accept an engagement as primo basso. On this occasion Signora Silini will sing, between the acts, the celebrated cavatina from Meyerbeer's "Roberto il Diavolo," and Signora Lubici the grand aria from Aida. We anticipate a "bumper" house and an excellent performance.

DEATH OF MR. HUGH BOLD GIBB.

It is with much regret that we have to chronicle the death of Mr. Hugh Bold Gibb, senior partner in the well known firm of Messrs. Gibb, Livingstone & Co., an old resident in Hongkong, and for many years one of its brightest ornaments. Particulars of the sad event have not been received here, but we learn from Shanghai, that intelligence of Mr. Gibb's death—which occurred on the 22nd ult.—had been wired from home. As the head of one of the oldest established and most influential firms in China, Mr. H. B. Gibb, by right of his position, bore a conspicuous part in the public affairs of this Colony. He was a member of the Legislative Council under two different Governors, and worthily upheld the best interests of the Colony whilst acting as the representative of the public. It will be remembered that Mr. Gibb was chairman of the "Indignation Meeting" held on the Cricket Ground, to protest against the lenient treatment of criminals by the Government, after the celebrated Wing Lok Street riot, in October, 1878, and he performed what proved a most onerous and delicate task, with much ability and discretion.

Mr. Gibb was a great patron and admirer of sport of every description. A Steward of our annual race meeting he was indefatigable in his exertions to promote the true interests of racing, and to worthily uphold the reputation of Hongkong Races. Although not a believer in general radical principles Mr. Gibb was a staunch advocate of many reforms in Hongkong racing, and shortly before leaving the colony he expressed to us his intention of moving for the formation of a Hongkong Race Club on the lines of the Shanghai Club, to take the place of the present informal institution. His sudden departure from Hongkong no doubt prevented what every body admits would have been a most desirable innovation from every point of view. Mr. Gibb was President of the Hongkong Cricket Club, and as keen a cricketer as ever handled the willow. Although seldom seen in the "tented field" of late years, the veteran's interest in the form game never flagged, and his well known form was to be seen at almost every match. The deceased gentleman was one of the most indefatigable pedestrians in the Colony. Sedan chairs were his abomination, and there can be no doubt that he owed his robust appearance and generally good health to his love for walking exercise. Every day after leaving the office, Mr. Gibb's sturdy figure might have been observed striding along Queen's Road towards the Happy Valley, frequently alone, but occasionally in company with some other sporting enthusiast of the old school, with whom old stories could be pleasantly exchanged.

Commercially, Mr. Gibb held high rank as an excellent business man. Socially he was the best of good fellows. The Hongkong public paid a just tribute to the subject of this brief sketch, when they affectionately spoke of him as "General Gibb."

He was emphatically a gentleman in every sense of the term. His open-handed liberality was notorious; his charitable nature made him frequently the dupe of canny hypocrites; but it may be confidently asserted that his assistance in a deserving cause was always forthcoming. By the death of Mr. Hugh Bold Gibb, Hongkong has assuredly lost one of the best men the Colony has ever known.

LOSS OF A BRITISH BARK IN THE HAITIAN STRAITS.

The British Bark Garstang, Captain Yarnall, bound from Melbourne to Amoy with coal, was lost last week. It appears that on Friday last the 21st instant, her Captain thinking that Turnabout Island was West North West of her, steered a S.W. course with the intention of reaching Amoy by daylight. At about ten o'clock at night she struck upon a reef and only got clear to strike again within half an hour of the first accident, and here she remained. At daylight she was found to be high and dry and was surrounded by numerous junks, the natives of which plundered her of everything on board. The crew were so thoroughly out-numbered as to be unable to offer any resistance, but the Captain with his wife, officers, and a crew of eight Malays succeeded in getting on to a fishing junk which was alongside. The crew of the latter being unable to extort money from those saved, tried to force them on shore, but this they did not succeed in doing, and they remained in the boat. Eventually a more humane Chinaman than the rest appeared on the beach and interceded on their behalf, the result being that they continued for a time this mode of travelling. On the following morning, however, at half past five they went ashore, and commenced to walk, the Captain's wife being accommodated with a chair. They travelled on foot the whole day, and then boarded another junk which brought them to Foochow on Sunday morning last. We understand that the whole crew left the anchorage per Thales for Amoy, at which port a thorough investigation, we presume, will be made into the case.—Foochow Herald.

AMOY.

His Imperial German Majesty's gunboat Itla, Commander Klaus, arrived at this port yesterday the 30th ult. from Swatow, and the steamer Fokien arrived in the evening from Hongkong and Swatow with the English mail.

A Naval Court is held to-day (April 29th) at the British Consulate, Koolang, to enquire into the loss of the British bark Garstang at Kwang Bay (Haitian Straits) on the 21st inst.

The following charters have been effected in Amoy during the past fortnight:—

"Carl Wilhelm" 5,700 piculs, Saigon to Amoy, 9 lay days, $1,600; "Kristina Nilson," 7,000 piculs, to Saigon and back to Amoy, 24 lay days, $2,600; "Helene," 6,500 piculs, Takao to Yokohama, 20 lay days, 29 cents per bag of 1 picul net taken in, with option to Taiwanfoo, Chefoo, Amoy, 26 lay days, $2,915; "Hager," 4,500 piculs, Taiwanfoo, Tientsin, Newchwang and Amoy, 28 lay days, $2,550; "Chloris," 7,600 piculs, Taiwanfoo, Chefoo and Amoy, 30 lay days, $2,550, if back via Newchwang, $2,700; "Tuno," 6,000 piculs, Taiwanfoo to Tientsin, 20 lay days, $1,900.

We understand that several changes will take place shortly in the Catholic Mission of this province. The Reverend G. Burno, the present incumbent of the Roman Catholic Church at this port has been appointed Procurator of the Spanish (Dominican) Mission in China, to reside in Hongkong and will be superseded by the Reverend Massot, now at Foochow, and that the Reverend Fernando Salas, the present Procurator will be stationed on the island of Koolang, where it is rumoured, a Roman Catholic Chapel will be established for those who find it inconvenient to cross the waters. It is also asserted on good authority that the Missions at Amoy, Kang-see, Chang-chiu and Formosa will be under the diocese of a Bishop who will reside in Koolang.

The master and crew of the Garstang, of Melbourne, arrived at this port on April 26th, in the Thales from Foochow. They report the loss of their vessel at Kwang Bay (Haitian Straits) on last Friday night, 21st instant, by striking on a reef during a thick fog. The Chinese fishermen of the neighbourhood stripped the ship completely and robbed the Captain, his wife, officers and crew of all their effects, actually searching their persons for valuables. These outrages on British vessels in distress have within the past few years become of only too frequent occurrence on the Coast of China. The Garstang left Newcastle, N.S.W. on the 4th March, bound for Amoy, with a cargo of coal. We believe a Naval Court will shortly be held to enquire into the causes which led to the wreck.

At the Naval Court held on Saturday, the 29th April, at H. B. M. Consulate, to enquire into the circumstances which led to the sinking of the British bark Garstang near Haitian Island on the 21st April, the following decision was recorded.

DECISION.

- 1.—That the Bark Garstang, official No. 5656 of Melbourne was bound on a voyage from Newcastle N. S. W., with a cargo of Coals for Amoy.
- 2.—That from the 19th to the 21st of April she encountered very foggy weather while rounding the North end of Formosa and endeavouring to make Turnabout light.
- 3.—That proper watch was kept, soundings duly made from the afternoon of the 20th, and the fog-horn used.
- 4.—That on the evening of the 21st she struck on rocks near the Island of Haitian, supposed to be in Kwang Bay.
- 5.—That the master and officers did their best under the circumstances to save the ship.
- 6.—That at daylight on the morning of the 22nd, the ship was invaded by a large body of piratical natives who thoroughly gutted her, taking away the ship's papers, charts, Officers' certificates, sails, provisions, in fact everything capable of being taken away including the ship's boats.
- 7.—That the Master and Officers being destitute of provisions, having no means of escape if the vessel broke up at high tide, and she was already bilged, and being in danger of their lives were justified in leaving the ship.
- 8.—Had the certificates not been lost they would have been at once returned to the Masters and Officers to whom no blame can be attached.

FOOCHOW.

We are informed that the Courier line between this port and Amoy is to be re-opened on the 1st proximo; a Courier leaving either port at 2 p.m. daily.

The S. S. Amoy which we alluded to in our last issue as having been condemned, is now being broken up at Shanghai. The C. M. S. N. Co. is evidently a paying line to be able to discard such a favourite vessel out of which, we understand, another three vessels work could have been had without risk of loss through unseaworthiness.

We hear that an extensive robbery has just taken place. It appears that Messrs. Gibb, Livingston & Co.'s Comptroller's nephew whilst on his way up-country with the large sum of sixteen thousand dollars, was robbed of the same in the Chong Lok district which was only a short distance from its destination. It is reported that he was killed. The Mandarins are taking active measures to bring the perpetrators of this depredation to justice.

It appears from statistics that the tea-competition between India and China is increasing, and rather to the detriment of the latter country. The imports of the United Kingdom during the past four years from the former country were increased by twenty and a half million pounds, whilst during the same period, that imported from China, was decreased by Nine Million pounds. The exportation of Indian teas to the United States appears to have increased proportionately.

Hardly a week now passes without having to record some extensive fire having taken place in the vicinity of Foochow. On Friday last the 21st inst., a conflagration was observable at about ten o'clock at night, in the same direction as where the last fire occurred. We learn that the damage occasioned in the present instance was even greater than that at the previous fire, although no lives are reported as lost. The fire, which raged fearfully until considerably past midnight, was allowed by the Chinese to burn itself out, no adequate means being adopted for its suppression.—Herald.

SHANGHAI RACES.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

By Telegraph.

Shanghai, 12th May, 1882.

The weather was again fine to-day, and the sport first class. Picaroon opened the hall successfully for Mr. Fungus, winning the Chu-ka-zu Cup in capital style. The winner of the Griffins, Montezuma, won the Derby very cleverly, and the Ladies' Purse fell to Lethair after an exciting race. Driving Cloud, in the absence of the cracks, proved a good thing for the two miles Race Club Cup, and then the excitement rose to a high pitch when Prejudice came out to do battle with Wild Dash and Tajmahal, the first and second in the Cathay Cup. Prejudice was of course made favorite, but good judges fancied Wild Dash, and although both Tajmahal and Prejudice stuck gamely to the big pony, he held them safe a long way from home, and eventually won cleverly in 2-34 the fastest time on record—Tajmahal finishing a good second. Foxhound cleverly followed up his yesterday's success in the Racing Stakes by landing the valuable Concordia Cup, when "Sammy" Walker had a well deserved turn with Castigator in the Tattle Cup. Gang Forward's splendid speed "landed" him home in the Spring Cup, and a good day's racing was brought to a conclusion by Rialto's victory in the Roadster's Plate.

THIS DAY, FOUR P.M.

Business in shares still remains unusually quiet. Banks have undergone no change since we last wrote; they are still firm at 115 per cent. premium. We observe from our Shanghai advices that Yangtze Insurance shares have depreciated, sellers offering to come to terms at Taels 860—a reduction of 20 on previous quotation—without finding purchasers. China Fires are weak, with sellers at 292½. A sale of Hongkong Fire stock at 925 has been reported. Docks are still offered for cash at 50 per cent. premium, without leading to business; there is, however a limited demand for the stock at 49, which had not been met when we went to press. On time a few shares have changed hands at 51 for the end of the month. Hotels are unsteady at 105 per share, and we believe that even a lower rate would be accepted by holders. The shares of both the China and Luzon Sugar Refining Companies are weak with sellers at annexed quotations.
